

APC

Automated Patient Check In

Introducing Numed's innovative range of Automated Patient Check-in solutions

APC is an easy to use touch screen system that allows your patients to check themselves in for an appointment. It's like having an extra receptionist at a fraction of the cost! APC will dramatically reduce queues at the reception desk leaving staff free to focus on other more demanding tasks.

Featuring advanced touch screen technology, patients can quickly and easily check themselves in for their appointment – meaning receptionists have more time for patients with queries or to answer incoming calls. Full integration with your medical record appointments system means your check-in system is aware of all appointments made with doctors, nurses or other healthcare professionals at the practice, and what's more it's compatible with your branch sites too.

HOW IT WORKS

Answering a few simple questions is all it takes for patients to check themselves in. In normal circumstances the only information required is gender, month of birth and date within that month. APC then finds and displays the patient's appointment details... it couldn't be simpler!
